

I am very concerned when I heard that K-Love 91.1 in Denver could be taken off the air because of LPFM.

It is so good to be able to turn on a radio station and know that it is all right for my 4 year old grandson to hear. That there won't be bad words and jokes etc. that I wouldn't want him to hear. Postive music and comments for my family and the families in my community.

The station helps to keep us up to date on News in our community and around the world. It gives us announcements of activities in our community. There is information given to help with the problems in families: raising children, money, etc. and ways we can help people in our community. When there is a radio station that has a postive impact in a community, why would you want to take it off the air?
